HIGHLIGHTS OF 2014 ACTIVITIES

K&L Gates comprises more than 2,000 lawyers practicing in offices on five continents around the globe. We maintain one of the most prominent international financial services practices—with more than 200 lawyers representing diversified financial services institutions and their affiliated service providers.

Our consumer financial services clients represent a cross section of the financial services industry, including traditional financial services companies (such as depository institutions, mortgage banks, consumer finance companies, credit card issuers, auto lenders, loan servicers, broker-dealers, investment banks, hedge funds, money services businesses, prepaid card issuers and sellers, and payment systems providers) as well as nonfinancial companies that might incidentally provide financial services to their customers (such as homebuilders, appraisal management companies, retailers, title insurers and agencies, real estate brokers, relocation service companies, and technology companies).

In addition to negotiating transactions, providing regulatory counseling, defending clients in litigation and government enforcement actions, and advocating on the policy side, our lawyers educate and train clients on the major industry issues of the day. We strive to be leaders in the consumer financial services industry by providing webinars, seminars, client alerts, blog posts, and on-site client training. Below are examples of our group's 2014 activities.
