

K&L Gates Public Policy and Law Practice:

Pennsylvania

K&L Gates' Pennsylvania Policy practice, among the largest in the state, comprises lawyers and professionals in both Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, that have served as elected and appointed legislative, executive, and judicial officials at the local, state, and federal level.

Our knowledge of Pennsylvania government provides the ability to monitor, advise, and influence government affairs/policy decisions at all levels of government.

K&L Gates' state legislative and executive branch lobbying team is led by a former Secretary of Legislative Affairs to the Governor of Pennsylvania, who also held senior positions within the Pennsylvania Governor's Office, the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, and the Pennsylvania Department of Labor & Industry. The Pennsylvania Policy practice also includes a former major lobbyist for one of Pennsylvania's largest business associations, with significant experience in managing coalitions on broad industry issues as well as a senior corporate executive who as President of one of Pennsylvania's largest regulated utilities, managed successful legislative and regulatory strategies. In combination with K&L Gates' substantial presence in its Pittsburgh and Harrisburg offices, we provide an efficient and coordinated federal lobbying team for Pennsylvania companies and organizations with federal policy priorities.

Our federal policy practice, which includes a former Pennsylvania governor and United States Attorney General, combines substantive experience, detailed knowledge of the federal legislative and executive branch processes, and access to key decision-makers. We represent our Pennsylvania-based client interests in the U.S. capital before Congress, executive branch and regulatory agencies, and the courts.
