A MESSAGE FROM NICK NICHOLA MANAGING PARTNER – AUSTRALIA

After 12 months of formalising our commitment to reconciliation through our Reflect RAP, I am pleased to share our 2021 – 2023 Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP).

We share a vision for a just, equitable and reconciled Australia—a critical matter for our country.

As a law firm, our pro bono work and its ability to connect people through K&L Gates for Equal Justice initiative is central to our vision as we strive to achieve meaningful progress.

We face many issues as a nation, and our RAP commits our firm to actively support reconciliation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in our business activities and communities.

At K&L Gates, our vision involves engaging all our people in the actions outlined in this RAP. Using the increased knowledge we have collectively built, our aim through the Innovate RAP is to spread this understanding through our greater circles of influence, while mapping meaningful actions. We do this by continuing our dialogue with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities to understand how we, as an ally organisation, can walk alongside our partners in reconciliation.

One key area of focus continues to be our ability to increase the representation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples within the legal industry.

We thank Reconciliation Australia for their guidance in the development and successful launch of our RAP and we look forward to ongoing collaboration with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples on our reconciliation journey.

Managing Partner - Australia

A MESSAGE FROM KAREN MUNDINE CEO RECONCILIATION AUSTRALIA

Reconciliation Australia commends K&L Gates on the formal endorsement of its inaugural Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP).

Commencing an Innovate RAP is a crucial and rewarding period in an organisation's reconciliation journey. It is a time to build strong foundations and relationships, ensuring sustainable, thoughtful, and impactful RAP outcomes into the future.

Since 2006, RAPs have provided a framework for organisations to leverage their structures and diverse spheres of influence to support the national reconciliation movement.

This Innovate RAP is both an opportunity and an invitation for K&L Gates to expand its understanding of its core strengths and deepen its relationship with its community, staff, and stakeholders.

By investigating and understanding the integral role it plays across its sphere of influence, K&L Gates will create dynamic reconciliation outcomes, supported by and aligned with its business objectives.

An Innovate RAP is the time to strengthen and develop the connections that form the lifeblood of all RAP commitments. The RAP program's framework of relationships, respect, and opportunities emphasises not only the importance of fostering consultation and collaboration with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and communities, but also empowering and enabling staff to contribute to this process, as well.

With over 2.3 million people now either working or studying in an organisation with a RAP, the program's potential for impact is greater than ever. K&L Gates is part of a strong network of more than 1,100 corporate, government, and not-for-profit organisations that have taken goodwill and intention, and transformed it into action.

Implementing an Innovate RAP signals K&L Gates' readiness to develop and strengthen relationships, engage staff and stakeholders in reconciliation, and pilot innovative strategies to ensure effective outcomes.

Getting these steps right will ensure the sustainability of future RAPs and reconciliation initiatives, and provide meaningful impact toward Australia's reconciliation journey.

Congratulations K&L Gates on your Innovate RAP and I look forward to following your ongoing reconciliation journey.

OUR VISION

Our vision for reconciliation is seeing that our people understand how the Australian justice system has impacted Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples since colonisation so that all K&L Gates people are cognisant of the systemic barriers that prevent equal access to justice. Our efforts to break down those barriers extend to supporting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander businesses to succeed by providing consultative support for their ventures to create an environment in which businesses can thrive.

OUR BUSINESS

K&L Gates is a fully integrated global law firm with lawyers located across five continents. Our broad global platform allows us to guide clients through the legal challenges inherent in the ever-changing international landscape. Our clients are predominantly commercial entities ranging across a wide variety of industries.

The deep latticework of relationships across our offices and practices enables our clients to respond to diverse legal issues and risks through the services of one law firm with a single communication.

K&L Gates has four offices across Australia in Brisbane, Melbourne, Perth and Sydney. We have over 450 people in Australia, forming part of a global workforce of approximately 3,500. Our lawyers are qualified to advise on legal matters across all Australian states and territories and utilise technology to meet with and communicate with clients, industry participants, sponsors and other advisers.

Currently we don't have any identified Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees. But we look forward to capturing this data during our Innovate RAP.

K&L GATES COMMITMENT TO RECONCILIATION

We are committed to promoting a diverse workforce and an inclusive firm culture where we value the contribution that people from diverse backgrounds and life experience bring to our firm. This includes igniting and encouraging our people to be passionate about making a difference in the communities in which we live and work.

A RAP provides a framework for practical actions around relationships, respect and opportunities.

Through our Reflect RAP, we have prepared our firm for the initiatives that drive reconciliation. In this, our Innovate

RAP, we develop and work towards our unique vision of reconciliation. As a law firm, our vision is intrinsically tied to our pro bono initiative, K&L Gates for Equal Justice, which harnesses our firm's legal skills to promote unity and equal justice for Indigenous people.

During the implementation of the Reflect RAP, the committee identified an opportunity to add Saltwater Country to the K&L Gates Workplace Giving Program, allowing all our people in Australia to donate a portion of their fortnightly salary.

Our Innovate RAP aligns with our firm's diversity strategy and goal of broadening our diversity and inclusion commitments and programs.

This RAP formalises our commitment to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and our intention to play a role in collaborating to achieve greater equality in life outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, including access to justice. We endeavour to achieve this by increasing awareness of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, histories and traditions amongst our people and our community, and strengthening relationships and engagement with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

OUR INNOVATE RAP

The K&L Gates Innovate RAP proposes actions that are aspirational for our firm. These actions seek to understand our collective sphere of influence, and through conversations with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander partners that we have, hold conversations to understand how we can empower through developing and piloting innovative strategies.

While the RAP Committee champions our RAP at K&L Gates, we have empowered all our people to understand their role in reconciliation, as well as their role in the actions outlined in the RAP. In addition, the RAP Committee is supported by our Global Diversity Committee and our local participants in this group.

K&L Gates has drawn upon its relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations to gain representation in our RAP Committee. We currently have one Aboriginal representative on the committee, Adele Peek from The Cultural Intelligence Project. The RAP Committee looks forward to strengthening the representation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples on the RAP Committee during this Innovate RAP.

In September 2020 K&L Gates launched its Reflect RAP. The 12 months that followed were an opportunity for us to gain understanding into Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples' cultures and histories, and establishing relationships. We look forward to building momentum in this Innovate RAP by continuing to harness the experience and skills of our people at K&L Gates and the relationships with our clients.

Saltwater Country is a not for profit organisation dedicated to empowering and mobilising the connection of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to land, horses and stockmanship pride. K&L Gates and Saltwater Country have an ongoing working relationship, through which K&L Gates provides regular and ongoing pro bono legal support to the organisation.

REFLECTING ON OUR RECONCILIATION JOURNEY

Working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander clients through pro bono

We have had the privilege to act as pro bono legal co-counsel to Yarraka Bayles, on behalf of her son Quaden and the family, in a cyberbullying matter that has attracted national and international media attention. Working alongside co-counsel George Newhouse of the National Justice Project, lawyers from K&L Gates assisted in the digital crisis planning and response to the cyberbullying of Quaden and implemented a tax efficient structure to receive the funds raised through a U.S. GoFundMe campaign. The family's inspiring story of courage was captured in the ABC's Australian Story episode, About A Boy.

In an initiative of K&L Gates' Australian Innovation and Pro Bono Committees, we have teamed up with the National Justice Project, Macquarie University and Josef legal technology, to help create a new approach to bringing pro bono support to vulnerable communities, Tech4Justice. The project team is working with WEAVE Youth & Community Services to increase our understanding of how we can best support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples through this initiative.

We updated the Pro Bono matter intake processes, to capture information to help understand the relationships we have with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and business to map their connections.

Building cultural capabilities

The Cultural Intelligence Project has led the team at K&L Gates for three training sessions, commencing in National Reconciliation Week and concluding in NAIDOC Week, so that collectively we can better understand:

- Two Worlds: Understanding the barriers
- The Other Glass Ceiling: Unpacking the decisions you make
- Ally vs Accomplice: How to take action.

Engagement with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander clients

During the 2020/21 financial year, K&L Gates' Australian offices provided over 165 hours of pro bono advice to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander clients, valued at over AU$95,000.

In total, our Australian teams worked with 33 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations, of which 21 businesses were categorised as not-for-profit or charitable.

Adele Peek from The Cultural Intelligence Project holds the firm in conversations that raised our collective cultural awareness (below).

Wirra Hub

In May 2021, K&L Gates was appointed to provide training workshops and consulting services to the WA Indigenous Business and Employment Hub, Wirra Hub, located in Perth. Our Australian team will be provided a series of legal workshops and training on topics such as establishing a startup, company joint ventures, employment and industrial relations, legal contract law, mergers and acquisitions, and general legal matters. Members of our core team will provide pro bono legal advice to members at the Wirra Hub in Burswood.

The Wirra Hub assists the Indigenous business sector to thrive in Western Australia and provides support to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people wanting to start, grow or sustain their businesses (left).

RELATIONSHIPS

K&L Gates will continue to establish and strengthen relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander clients and the wider communities in which we operate. As a law firm, we are a relationship driven business, it's how we connect to our communities. We look forward to continuing to reinforce and deepen our existing relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and businesses and map opportunities to create new and meaningful relationships.

The artwork used in this RAP is part of a collection on display in our Sydney office. The works are from Thamoor Country (Couridjah, NSW) owned by Frances Bodkin and Gavin Andrews, and includes works by Albert Namatjira.

Frances Bodkin (Aunty Fran) is the knowledge holder of the D'harawal People of the Bidiagal Clan and according to D'harawal tradition, Gawain (Gavin) Bodkin-Andrews, Fran's son, is now the holder of these stories.

Aunty Fran is an educator of D'harawal knowledge and holds a Bachelor of Arts and Sciences with five majors, including Environmental Sciences, and further postgraduate degrees. Combining the knowledge passed down from her Aboriginal mother with her university education she holds a holistic understanding of the natural environment and ways to care for it.

The serpent artwork used in the RAP was created by Dhungatti man Hector Daly, with the support of Wiradjuri woman Kerry Wood.
